THANKSGIVING SUPPER AT WILLOWDALE

The ladies of the Willowdale Presbyterian church are to be congratulated upon the success of their Thanksgiving supper and concert in the manse and church on Friday last. The tables were laden with good things to eat, and the ladies were busy keeping up supplies for over two hours.

The ladies take this opportunity of thanking those who so kindly assisted with the supper and programme in any way.

The programme consisted of solos, duets, quartettes, readings, recitations, and very interesting address by the Rev. W. G. Brown of Red Deer. The proceeds of the evening were about seventy dollars.

LOCAL NEWS

Alexandra Club dance in the Armouries, tonight.

Inspector W. J. McLean was in the city over the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cole.

The weather has been very pleasant the past week but the sun can look for a freeze-up next week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Price, of Lacombe, were week end visitors with Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Thorne.

H. Sutherland, manager of the Merchants Bank, Penhold, has been promoted to be manager at Munson.

RETURNS COMPLETED

Returning completed up to yesterday morning, the prohibition majority of over 10,000, and the leaders of the party in Edmonton estimate the majority, when all the returns are in, of close to 15,000. July 21st, 1915, a majority of 20,000 was given for prohibition without the women vote. Neither the vote nor the dry majority is nearly as heavy as was anticipated by the prohibition forces. All the cities gave majorities in favor of the dry except Lethbridge, which went wet. The total vote listed is expected to be nearly 70,000. The returns up to late Monday night showed less than 60,000 votes polled.

G.W.V.A. REGULAR MEETING

The regular meeting of the G.W.V.A. was held on Sunday afternoon last, with Com. R. C. P. Gee, President, in the chair.

The minutes of last regular meeting were adopted as read. Reports were also presented of previous executive meetings.

A number of applications for membership were read and approved.

The G.W.V.A. are to meet on Monday before the meeting, and after a short discussion on matters appearing in the minutes of the Society, the members adjourned.

CITY COUNCIL

The regular meeting of the City Council was held on Monday evening last, with His Worship Mayor, W. E. Lord, in the chair, and Aldermen Broughton, Stone, Collier and Moyes in attendance.

The Department of Public Works, Edmonton, notified the Council that the work on the Red Deer bridge had been completed and the bridge was now open to traffic.

The Department of Public Works, Edmonton, reported the secured and proper title to same was secured.

This will mean that the bridge in the city limits, it was expected the city would be able to take it.

Union of Alberta Municipalities wrote re convention Tuesday and Wednesday, November 9th and 10th.

The School Board wrote that the C.N.R. had not provided for a drain for the north-east side of the school yard, and asked the Council to take steps to have this built.

The City Solicitor, notifying the C. & E. Traction Co. that the public had no right to get into the city limits, and that the city would be liable for any damage caused by the traction company.

McCavill, Secretary of Sylvan Lake, wrote that the village was willing to pay the hospital bill of the city, and asked the Council to take steps to have this built.

The City Solicitor, notifying the C. & E. Traction Co. that the public had no right to get into the city limits, and that the city would be liable for any damage caused by the traction company.

SUGAR PRICES ARE REDUCED BY REFINERS

Montreal, October 25.—It was announced this afternoon by the sugar refiners, the Canada, Atlantic, St. Lawrence and Acadia, that the price of granulated sugar would be immediately reduced two cents a pound from 19 1/2 cents to 17 1/2 cents, less five per cent, which makes the amount received by the refiners for the sugar exactly 17 cents a pound.

The price of granulated sugar has been steadily rising since the middle of last year, and the refiners have been able to maintain a profit of about 20 cents a pound.

The Dominion Sugar company, which chiefly handles beet sugar at present, has been the top bidder for sugar, and has been able to maintain a profit of about 20 cents a pound.

It is figured that the refiners in prices will entail a loss to the refiners of about $10,000, or a total loss of about $10,000, since the decline in sugar prices started.

The refiners returned this week from Ottawa. It was stated by Hunter R. Drummond, president of the Canadian Sugar Refiners' Association, that while full representations had been made to the government, they had returned to Montreal without having bettered their condition.

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE WEDDING

A very pretty and interesting wedding was solemnized at Rocky Mountain House on Thursday, October 21st, at 9 o'clock in the morning, when Helen Kathleen, eldest daughter of Mr. W. J. and the late Mrs. Kirby, became the bride of Peter Bator, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. P. Bator, 105th street, Edmonton.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's father, with the Rev. Father Yolin officiating. The rooms were beautifully decorated with ferns and flowers for the occasion.

The bride, who entered beaming in the arm of her father, looked exquisitely pretty in her travelling suit of brown drapery, trimmed with white lace. She wore a lovely pink georgette blouse finished with cream lace; a stylish hat, and a carriage bouquet of roses. Mrs. E. S. Brett, of Calgary, was matron of honor, and the bridesmaid was Miss Kate Carwell, and a dust by Misses Brumpton and Cardwell.

The bride's father, who was assisted by the Rev. Father Yolin, looked very handsome in his black and white suit. The groom, who was assisted by the Rev. Father Yolin, looked very handsome in his black and white suit.

PROMENADE CONCERT

The Promenade Concert, given by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the G.W.V.A. in the Armouries on Thursday, October 21st (Thursday last), was a splendid success, considering the very disagreeable night, and a nice sum was realized for the Soldiers' Memorial. The programme consisted of solos, duets, quartettes, readings, recitations, and very interesting address by the Rev. W. G. Brown of Red Deer. The proceeds of the evening were about seventy dollars.

THE MAYORALTY

Mayor W. E. Lord has definitely stated that he will not be a candidate for Mayorality honors for another year, and citizens of Red Deer will be pleased to know that Alderman John Collier, who has seen four years' service on the Council board, has consented to stand for the position.

Mr. Collier is one of Red Deer's oldest and most highly respected citizens, and the News feels that he is a man eminently fit for the position, and that the affairs of the city will be safe in his hands.

REDEER'S VOTE

Out of 17,000 registered in Calgary only about 11,000 voted, the city giving a majority of 1,000 for the drys.

The Memorial Fund is growing every day. During the past week a Black picture and a carriage bouquet of roses completed the collection. The committee are gratified that so many societies of young people are showing such a patriotic spirit towards the Memorial.

MAGSWINEY DEAD

London, October 25.—Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, died at Bristol prison at 6.40 o'clock this morning. His death followed a hunger strike of more than 73 days, culminating in an attack of the medical world.

MacSwiney, who had been unconscious for several days, died of his faculties before he died. Father Dominic, his private chaplain, and his wife, Mrs. John MacSwiney, were with him when he died. Father Dominic was at the prison all night and did not leave until several hours after MacSwiney breathed his last.

COMMISSIONERS' REPORT

The Commissioners brought in the following report: 1. The Commissioners were engaged to complete the grading of Victoria Avenue extension west of C. P. Ry. and work on the completion of the supervision of Foreman Jones.

2. Mr. Tripp, C. P. Ry. engineer, advised him by a pet monkey early in October, the King being badly mutilated. Throughout last night the heart action grew weaker, his general debility became more pronounced, and pulmonary troubles were interfering. Breathing at times was most difficult, and at noon today it was announced that the King's condition was hopeless.

THOSE LANGSHAN RECORDS

To the Editor of The News.

If the critic of Black Langshans will come out to my place, I can show him:

A Black Langshan cockerel, 50 days later than the 94 lb. cockerel, that weighs today 94 lbs. and still growing.

A pullet, hatched on April 29th that weighs over 7 lbs. and laying.

As any well posted poultry breeder knows, there are always outstanding birds in any flock, and for a pullet to lay at 4 1/2 months is good, but far from wonderful.

Black Langshans won the Australian and Missouri 1916-17 egg-laying contest—

1st, number of eggs laid.

2nd, number of winter eggs.

3rd, number of eggs in 2 years.

4th, average weight 1 1/2 lb. more to the dozen than light breeds.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Thompson and family moved last Tuesday to Ben-Ed, where Mr. Thompson is taking charge of the elevator.

Mr. Walter Egler is having a sale of stock, machinery and furniture on Wednesday, November 3, after which he will leave for the States.

The entertainment given by the Red Deer Quilts was much enjoyed, and, being well attended, a good return was handed in to the hall fund.

Mrs. William Wells and children and Mrs. Walter Wells and children returned last week to their homes at Abbotsford, B.C., after a pleasant stay with relatives in this district.

Wedding bells will be ringing on Thursday, October 29th, when the marriage of Edmund Hives to Vera Johnson will take place in the Presbyterian church. A good number are expected to be present.

The results of last Monday's ballot in this district were:

Penhold, 13 wet.

Fairclough, 21 dry, 9 wet.

Ridgewood, 35 dry, 14 wet.

Antler Hill, 51 dry, 1 wet.

Which was no uncertain vote.

Preparations are well under way for the big night—first anniversary opening of the Memorial hall on Monday, November 1st, when a reception, Thanksgiving supper and grand ball will be given by the Women's Institute in honor of the retiring officers. Red Deer Veterans' Orchestra in attendance.

Now Old Man You're Caught!

You can't squirm away or dodge the issue any longer. You've either got to drop off—or drop in.

With winter almost here, building sheds for your idle machinery are absolutely necessary—or there'll be a big shrinkage in their value next season if left out in the open all winter. Why delay longer? Surely the damage to your machines will more than offset the cost of enough lumber to build sheds. So why not have the sheds? We have plenty of good shed lumber, and at the little prices we're asking for it, it is cheaper to own sheds than to be without them. Now it's up to you. Come in and talk about it.

THE EXPORT CATTLE TRADE

Cattlemen on the Western Canadian ranches are reported to be seriously concerned about the uncertainty facing the export of cattle on the hoof to the United States. They fear that after the coming elections a tariff wall may be erected against the importation of stockers and feeders from the Dominion. Last year the value of the animals exported was roundly $50,000,000. This has been a growing trade since 1910 when 155,000 cattle were shipped over the line. In 1919, the total had risen to 342,000 and for the fiscal year ending March last, the figure was 516,000.

But there is a reassurance forthcoming. Canadian packers realize the seriousness of any threatened curtailment of livestock production, and believe that if a tariff contingency had to be met they could fully take care of all the cattle that can be raised if two conditions are fulfilled. The "scrub" bull must go so as to raise the general quality of our beef, and stockraisers must provide a steadier supply than in the past. These two factors are the main drawbacks to the development of an export trade in beef similar to that which has proved for 25 years the mainstay of our bacon industry.

During 1919, out of 698,849 cattle marketed at stockyards for home slaughter, 359,418 graded "good" and 339,431 graded "common." That is, 48.5 per cent. graded "common."

With so much unsuitable material to hamper an export market cannot yet be established to compete with the high class beef from Argentina and Australia. But if quality is improved and supply well regulated, packers emphatically assure stockbreeders—and this applies to east and west—of a readiness to aid in opening and building up a valuable market for all beef animals bred on Canadian farms.

The great strike of coal miners across the sea is on, and there has been extreme tension in all parts of the Mother Country. This tension was somewhat lightened at last report, when it was learned that the railway men would not strike in sympathy with the miners until after a meeting to be held today. In the meanwhile the government is doing everything possible to meet the situation and it is hoped an amicable solution of the trouble may be arrived at. If the strike cannot be settled the government may appeal to the people.

result of the vote yesterday. I had anticipated a heavy defeat for the government. The government will be prepared for the consideration of the legislature a bill to give effect to the will of the people, as expressed at the polls. Had the government not been prepared to accept the decision of the electors they would not have submitted the question.

THE NEWS WEEKLY SERMON

By Rev. G. D. Armstrong

And David longed and said, "O that one would give me drink of the water of the well of Bethlehem that is at the gate. And the three brake through the host of the Philistines, and drew water out of the well of Bethlehem and took it and brought it to David; but David would not drink of it, but poured it out to the Lord, and said, My God, forbid it me, that I should do this thing; Shall I drink the blood of the men that have put their lives in jeopardy for me? for would I have received their lives? Therefore he would not drink it.—I Chron. 11: 7-19.

Very much that is pleasing and appealing is suggested by the incident of our text. It is at once a story of human and magnificent divine. It justifies the idea that David was a man after God's own heart, and explains the winsomeness of a personality that has long kindled the spirit of hero-worship in the minds of men.

At the time this incident occurred David was feeling the strain of responsibility which came to him as king of Israel. The old care-free days of his shepherd life had passed, and the strenuous duties of national leadership were upon him. Camping near to Bethlehem, the scene of his childhood, it was natural that he should remember the well where he had often quenched his boyhood thirst. If one were to listen to the fallacies of some people today, his sensation of thirst was intensified by the fact that it was not easy to obtain the desired drink—the well was in the possession of the Philistines.

Sentiment plays a very large part in determining our individual experience and in moulding our lives. Some time ago I visited the old family homestead, where three-quarters of a century ago my grandfather had been out for himself and his family a home in the wilderness. What a change has taken place. The old log house has gone into firewood, and a new structure nearer to the road-way takes its place; the old stone fences, hand-picked from the fields, have gone into the foundation of a bank barn, and wire fences have taken the place of the old rail fences. The thicket of wild plum trees, so famous for their playfulness and hiding place, have yielded to the hand of industry and progress. The old lilac bushes that decorated the door way are no more. The orchard of wild apples, gathered from the forest at night, has been given place to a product of modern nurseries. Only the memory remains, but these old nameless apples had a flavor and a charm that is all their own—no other is just like them.

So with David; other water might have quenched his physical thirst just as well, but there was a thirst in his soul for olden memories, ways and things of which the well at Bethlehem became the symbol. "Any water would have quenched David's thirst, but there are times when mere necessities are not enough; we must have the subtle touch, the mysterious association, the romantic impulse, all the poetry of life.

Our revolutionary movements, essential as they have been to human progress, have not always done justice to the mystical elements of human life, and in our eager desire to prove all things, we have not always cherished that which is good. The finer qualities of human character and the rarest culture in our civilization will be obtained only by those men and nations that have the finest insight and the truest spiritual perception. There is some force in Matthew Arnold's suggestion that "religion is morality, tinged with emotion."

To the mood of David his companions responded. With heroic loyalty his friends broke through the enemy's lines and brought back to their leader the boon his nature craved. At this moment the real greatness of David asserts itself. He has a true sense of the fitness of things. Recognizing the heroism, the self-sacrifice, the splendid spirit of loyalty, he refuses to use their offering to him as a means of quenching his thirst, but finding in it a symbol of something divine, he makes the gift of friendship a gift of worship.

We need today the insight which will enable us to appreciate the unrecorded deeds of heroes that are done without thought of reward and with no other motive than unselfish love.

We need this appreciation of human worth in the realm of industry if the elements which are the force for peace are not to be lacking. Employer and employee must know each other to such an extent that the right of justice to the other's point of view and have a due respect for human personality.

The spirit of comradeship must be expressed if the church is to make its best contribution to the life. "Great hearts grow one in the world's work." In working together for the common good in mutual service and sacrifice, the kingdom of God will be built up. The incident of our text has also a timely value for those whose interest in the question of temperance has been aroused. The view to raise temperance legislation is to make men free. More than temperance laws we need people who have such a regard for the well-being of their fellowmen that they will voluntarily become total abstainers rather than jeopardize the lives of their fellowmen or the generations yet unborn.

The spirit displayed by David and his companions, if infused into our social life, will make life all that it ought to be.

London, October 21.—Colonel Malone demanded in the house of commons tonight whether the government was aware that James Larkin, former head of the British transport workers' union, serving a prison term in New York for criminal anarchy, had developed tuberculosis in Danmore prison, owing to the nature of the work on which he was employed, and in a critical condition. He asked whether the government had made representations to the United States government with view to releasing Larkin for treatment.

Cecil Harnsworth, under-secretary for foreign affairs, replying, said that he was aware that Larkin had been sentenced on a charge of advocating the overthrow of the United States government, but had no information regarding his condition. The matter was not one, he added, on which Great Britain could make representations.

London, October 21.—Newspapers hostile to the government admit that last night's debate on reprisals in Ireland did nothing towards weakening the cabinet's position with its supporters in the house of commons.

T. P. O'Connor described the conduct of the Black and Tans as a senile imitation of Prussianism. Right Hon. Bonar Law optimized the cabinet's attitude in declaring that 346 votes to 79 was a foregone conclusion.

and police should have any doubt as to their being supported. Commentators generally admit that the rejection of the motion for an enquiry by 346 votes to 79 was a foregone conclusion.

SAYS HIS CHANGE WAS MIGHTY SLIM

Seaman Had Rheumatism So Bad He Was Told There Was Practically No Hope.

"The rheumatism got such a hold on me I was told there was practically no chance in ten I would ever be entirely rid of it again, but, thanks to Tanlac, it has entirely disappeared, and all my other troubles along with it," said Wm. R. Nokolovskiy, of 132 Higgins street, Vancouver, B.C.

"For about six years I suffered from a bad case of rheumatism. My right leg became stiff, and the calves of my legs swelled up. My arms ached and pained me so it was agony for me to put on my clothes. I had such chronic pains across my back that I don't believe it could have hurt worse had someone been jabbing me with a knife. My appetite dwindled away to almost nothing and I was continually losing strength and weight.

"While in Winnipeg on a visit I read about Tanlac in the papers and got a bottle. The results were so fine that I kept on taking it until the rheumatism left me entirely, and now I never have a sign of pain of any kind. My appetite is so big I can hardly satisfy it, and I've gained ten pounds in weight. At night I sleep like a rock, and I feel every bit of my years younger. Tanlac has certainly proved a remarkable medicine in my case, and I believe the best way in which I can show my gratitude is to make a statement for the benefit of others."

Tanlac is sold in Red Deer by Gaetz-Cornett Drug & Book Co., and by the leading druggist in every town.

WITNESS RESENTS COUNSEL'S REMARK AND STRIKES HIM

Use of Words, "Stool Pigeon" Starts Free-for-All in Coleman Court.

Coleman, Alta., October 22.—Mayor Jack Johnson, of Coleman, pleaded "not guilty" to the charge of selling liquor in violation of the Alberta Liquor Act, in Magistrate Bicker's court Thursday afternoon.

After examining two witnesses, Detectives Delaney and Brooker, the case was adjourned until next Wednesday.

During the examination of Frank Delaney, C. F. Harris, counsel for the accused, used the word "stool pigeon" in reference to the witness. Instantly Delaney struck the solicitor, whereupon Johnson, the accused, sprang to help the lawyer, striking Delaney a sharp blow on the face, drawing blood.

Some minutes before quiet was restored.

Frank Delaney, of the Calgary A. P. P., following the Coleman trial, went to Blairmore, where he was charged with carrying an offensive weapon, and that he did not obey Charley Claridge, of the Cosmopolitan hotel, Blairmore, last Monday night. Justice Grisham, at Blairmore, heard the charge Thursday evening.

The accused was remanded until Tuesday, October 26, on bail of $25.00.

The action against Delaney was brought following the sensational trials conducted by provincial police last week, five towns of the Crow's Nest Pass on Thanksgiving Day.

Delaney, it is alleged, removed three dollars from the till of the Cosmopolitan hotel.

The case against Delaney, coupled with the numerous charges preferred against citizens of the Pass towns for alleged illegal trafficking in liquor, with a fancy table, over $500, and better than anticipated, with fine 18c to 20c, chickens 20c to 25c; no demand for ducks, geese or turkeys; better keep them and finish them. Butter prices unchanged, but market uncertain. Creamery No. 1, 53c, No. 2 52c; special, car lot basis, 53c; dairy scarce; straight receipts, 4c to 4 1/2c; fancy table, 48c to 53c. Cream prices unchanged, and will depend on butter market.

Weakness in the market for potatoes is being quoted around 23c, country points.

Hay—

Dealers are getting hay at country points at $18.00 to $20.00 for upland, and timothy $25.00 to $27.00. Movement to markets will be light, and prices to fluctuate in times of shortage.

Hides—

No demand for hides at all, and big houses will not make a bid of any kind. Dealers now reduced prices to 6c to 8c on butcher hides, 5c to 7c on green hides, kip 6c to 8c; calf 10c to 12c. Nobody anxious to buy at any price.

Furs—

London fur auctions have started, and prices have been in line with recent reductions. Red fox skins were cheap, but the white, silver and cross foxes were at normal values. No signs of activity in furs until after new year.

Skiddermen, Ire., October 21.—Three "Black and Tan" policemen returning to barracks, were ambushed today and shot and wounded at Leap, seven miles from here. Two of them are not likely to recover.

EXAMINER'S REVIEW OF PROVINCIAL MARKETS

Calgary, October 22.

Premiums on American funds are higher again, and this morning quoted 10 5/8.

Cattle—

There has been a weaker market all around on cattle in Calgary this week, and the best steers and heifers are from 25c to 60c lower, with the cows the hardest hit. Top steers are now $7.50 to $8.10, with only a few bringing more than $8.00; good good butcher steers, $6.25 to $7.50; medium, $5.75 to $6.75; common, $4.00 to $5.75. It is only occasionally that a few cows sell for $5.50, and the market may be given at $5.50 to $6.10 for the best; good butchers, $4.75 to $5.00; medium, $4.00 to $4.75; common and canners, $3.00 to $4.75. The best heifers offered have barely made $6.00. Feeder steers are $5.25 to $7.00; stockers, $5.00 to $5.25. Stocker heifers, $4.00 to $5.25; cows, $4.00 to $5.00. Calves have lost considerably during the week, and the best are now $7.00 to $8.20; common, $5.00 to $6.50. It is like a very good time to buy good breeding and feeder stock. Receipts during the week have been heavy.

With light receipts, particularly of the well-finished classes, the Edmonton market this week has shown an advance of 25c to 50c on the good steers, which are now $8.00 to $8.50; good butchers, $7.00 to $8.00; medium $6.00 to $7.00. Choice cows and heifers, $6.25 to $7.50; good butchers, $5.00 to $5.90; medium, $4.00 to $5.00; common, $3.50 to $4.00. Calves are selling a little easier, and the bulk of the sales are between $3.00 to $3.50, with the common heavy ones down to about $2.00. Bulls are holding about steady with a lot of grain over $5.00, but the bulk of the good ones from that down to $4.75. There is a better inquiry for feeder steers, and the best of them are worth around $7.00, with the somewhat lighter ones at $6.00. The breadly looking stocker heifers are bringing up to $6.00, and stocker cows $4.00 to $5.00.

Hogs—

Light receipts at Calgary this week, and the market holding around $20.00, which was the price at which most of last week-end sales were eventually made.

The hog market has been rather weak at Edmonton, and the price is a dollar under a week ago, with most of the Thursday sales at $20.00.

Sheep—

There has been a good market on sheep at Calgary, with lambs yesterday up to $11.00, and best wethers, $8.00 and ewes from $7.00 down.

There has been a better market for lambs at Edmonton during the week, and the best ones are now selling from $10.00 down, and the good wethers from $8.50 down. There is an indifferent demand for breeding ewes.

Horses—

Some little trade in grades is starting, and loads have been shipped to outside points. Low prices and quality is attracting buyers. Registered horses of good quality are bringing satisfactory prices.

Grain—

All grain has dropped from the high point which was touched last Friday, but the decline has not been sufficient to approach previous figures. Thrashing conditions in nearly every portion of the province have been very satisfactory, and there has been a lot of grain forwarded already, though some are holding for better prices. Next Monday is the date which has been set by some of the American farmers to start withholding wheat shipments until the price approaches $3.00 mark.

It may be observed sufficiently to affect the market, but exporters are not very far from being just now for immediate delivery, owing to the possibility of trouble in transportation in the United States.

Produce—

Very little movement in prices, and supplies not being forwarded in any volume. Poultry prices some what better than anticipated, with fine 18c to 20c, chickens 20c to 25c; no demand for ducks, geese or turkeys; better keep them and finish them. Butter prices unchanged, but market uncertain. Creamery No. 1, 53c, No. 2 52c; special, car lot basis, 53c; dairy scarce; straight receipts, 4c to 4 1/2c; fancy table, 48c to 53c. Cream prices unchanged, and will depend on butter market.

Weakness in the market for potatoes is being quoted around 23c, country points.

An armed military detachment raided the offices of the newspaper, Echo of the Enniscorthy and plied large quantities of type as a protest against the loss of the military.

A RED CROSS BRIDGE.

Food Plentiful in Canada, Scarce in Europe—Needs of the Children.

The development of the dairy industry of Canada during the past two decades has been surprisingly rapid. Quick to realize the profits to be derived from milk production and the great value of dairying in conserving the fertility of the soil, the Canadian farmer has not hesitated to increase his investments in dairy cattle. The industry expanded during the 8-10 years of world war, Canada, being distant from the theatres of war, although handicapped by the drafting into military service of half a million of her most vigorous manhood, was able to continue the development of many of her important industries, particularly agriculture.

It was not so in Europe. There the direst blast of war, which left profits in some parts of the world, almost extinguished not only industry but national life itself in other. The drain upon manhood was so great that now in hundreds of thousands of families no adult males remain. Europe more-over is filled with orphan children whose prospect of life is marred by the lack of all that is necessary to bodily and mental growth. In most cases the earning power and consequently the purchasing power of their families is utterly destroyed.

Turning again to Canada we find there a surplus production of the commodities that are so badly needed in Europe. Condensed milk for instance is a commodity that is a prime necessity for the children of the poor communities of Europe but the nations to which they have no means of purchasing it for them. The Canadian Red Cross is going to endeavor to supply part of their needs by means of a general appeal for contributions to be made during Armistice week on behalf of the British Empire Fund, which is to be used in the humane task of relieving the sufferings of millions who are stricken by famine and disease. Part of the fund will be used for purchasing in Canada suitable supplies and thus the Red Cross will furnish the bridge across which some of our surplus milk will reach the starved children in war-stricken areas. Those who assist will not only have the satisfaction of having contributed to relieve the sufferings of others less fortunate but by helping others will thereby indirectly help themselves.

FROM GENEVA.

Organizer for League of Red Cross Societies Tells of Need of Europe's Orphans.

"While we at home are intent on industrial expansion and are placed in the sun, Europe in its war-weakened condition is fighting for its very existence," said Donald W. Brown, director of the department of organization in the League of Red Cross Societies of the World, which has its headquarters at Geneva, Switzerland. He visited Toronto to learn the peace program of the Canadian Red Cross Society and to establish closer contact between it and the League.

Millions of War Orphans.

Having just arrived from Europe, Mr. Brown was able to give the Canadian Red Cross some first hand information concerning the needs of Europe. He called attention particularly to the condition of the children, so many of whom are now orphans. While the exact number who have lost one or both parents during the war cannot be determined, the most conservative estimate places the number at over ten millions. This number seems quite constant, and the heavy war casualties among so many nations.

Dependent Upon Charity.

The condition of these children is in most cases very pitiable. Many of them have no homes and they are dependent upon whoever may be charitable and kind enough to help them. But there are few who are able to give much aid for the masses of the people of Russia, Poland, parts of Roumania, Czechoslovakia and other countries are so poor that they have not resources for themselves. Consequently in the great area between the Baltic, the Black and the Adriatic Seas, there are millions of children who face the next few years, and particularly the coming winter, without hope of proper care unless outside assistance is given them.

Disease Prevalent.

In addition to the unhappy condition of the children, adult populations are in the direst of misery on account of disease. Suffering has been accentuated by lack of food and clothing, nursing and medical attention, and tuberculosis, smallpox, typhus and dysentery are continuing unchecked.

Typhus which has so often proved a scourge and menace to the adult race is again prevalent, and unless checked is most likely to extend its ravages to an alarming degree.

British Empire Appeal.

For these urgent reasons, Mr. Brown said, the League of Red Cross Societies has made an earnest appeal to the people of the British Empire and he was glad to hear that the cause of the suffering children was being taken up in Canada. He had learned that an appeal on behalf of the British Empire Fund had been made in Canada by the Canadian Red Cross during Armistice week and wished for it every success.

Typhus in Canada.

In its earlier days Canada suffered from the ravages of a disease now known as "stiff fever" but now known generally by the name of typhus. It is a disease that spreads rapidly and is very destructive of human life. In the years 1846-47 it was brought to Canada by immigrants and caused great loss of life. It is only by taking urgent measures to stamp it out in the centres where it is now raging that it can be prevented from spreading.

GERMANY TODAY
IS EXTRAVAGANT
IN ITS PLEASURE

Has Money for Everything Except to Discharge Her Debts, Says Writer.

Berlin, October 8.—Germany is the pleasure "highspot" of Europe today. Every other nation is a miser and every third German is bent on making himself a pauper in the briefest manner, most shameful way. This is the stranger's first impression after reaching Berlin. Germany is today the most extravagant country in Europe; and Germany today has money for everything except her debts.

Business does not boom in Germany. Pleasure booms. It booms as it never did before. Victorious and prosperous Germany of 1919-1923 was a frugal, quiet-living land. Defeated, beggared Germany of 1920 lives in a riot of excesses, excesses of the eye, the palate, the ear. Foreigners who know Berlin before the war do not recognize it today. They imagine they are in the capital of a country which has won half a billion, great war and carried home the spoils of half a dozen opulent states.

GIVES AN INSTANCE.

Let me give one instance. In August, 1914, the big thoroughfare called the Kurfurstendamm, which intersects the western part of the city, was entirely composed of private residences. It was a quiet street. Today, as a result of the war, the lower floors of the one-story houses are transformed into luxury shops, art shops, restaurants, dance halls and cabarets.

Well-dressed people are everywhere. Only last week a citizen who in 1914 was cleaning the door handles of a Deutsche bank's suburban office paid 6000 marks at an auction for a suite of Louis XVI furniture.

ARE A MYTH.

The stories current of bad German feeding are a myth. True, many are underfed; but the others are so extravagantly overfed that if food was rationed they would have enough. Over four thousand new restaurants, mostly luxury restaurants, have sprung up since the war. In the west and south-west third private house has one of its flats converted into a "gold-bag" restaurant consisting, perhaps, of only three or four small rooms, but with prices running big. These restaurants bear exotic names suggesting luxury, extravagance or vice. All are danced in. At one of these a single man's dinner with an ordinary native wine costs between 200 and 300 marks, and a good dinner with French champagne (which the German splendid paper drinks copiously) costs 500 or 700 marks—30 pounds according to pre-war standards. And the diners are not control commissars or officers or foreign business men. They are Germans.

A SPLENDID PAUPER.

Nearly every German, though a pauper, is a splendid pauper. The explanations are two—currency inflation and taxes. The Reichsbank has put out five banknotes at an average rate of 500,000,000 marks a week. In the last week reported it beat its own record with 1,500,000,000 marks, and therewith the total paper circulation for the first time exceeded 70,000,000,000 marks. Before the war it was 2,405,000,000 marks. And as Erberger's famous taxes in any case will take the new rich into pauperism—to reach pauperism by the merriest, most riotous path.

One Erberger tax will take, 100 per cent. of all money, exceeding a petty sum, since 1913. So the new rich resolves to get rid of his riches pleasantly instead of parting with them tamely to the state.

WESTMINSTER ABBEY

His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor has received a communication from the Dean of Westminster Abbey, London, England, stating that there must be extensive repairs to Westminster Abbey. It is estimated that it will require at least one million dollars to do all the necessary work. The Dean suggested that it would be very appropriate if contributions were made from every corner of the Empire, that this "resting place of England's Kings" should be preserved to the Empire and not allowed to decay and become a ruin. It was further suggested that the Lieutenant-Governor of this province open a branch of this Restoration Fund at Government House, and that the people of each province be solicited to contribute to this worthy fund. His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta has agreed to receive and forward to the trustees of the Fund any contributions which the citizens of Alberta may feel pleased to make.

EAST, WEST, HOME'S BEST

It has been said that The Youth's Companion has had more readers in America than any other publication in America. There is good reason to believe this to be true. But the important thing is that the influence of the paper upon its millions of readers has always been directed to building character. "East, west, home's best," has been its unvaried slogan. In its articles, editorial and otherwise, it has dwelt upon the importance of good citizenship. In all its content it has aimed to give no entertainment, but "stepping-stones to higher things."

A year of The Youth's Companion brings a tremendous tide of delightful and diversified reading that cannot be found elsewhere.

The 52 issues of 1921 will be crowded with serial stories, short stories, editorials, poetry, facts and fun. Subscribe now and receive:

1. The Youth's Companion—62 issues in 1921.
2. All the remaining issues of 1920.

ATTITUDE ON
WHEAT CONTROL
IS SET FORTH

Sir George Foster Issues Statement Giving the Position of Government.

Ottawa, October 21.—"The government is carefully studying the various purchasing systems employed and marketing conditions generally in this and other countries, and is ready to take steps to ensure the marketing of Canadian wheat should a situation such as last year's develop again."

In these words, Sir George Foster, minister of trade and commerce, in a statement issued this afternoon, summed up the attitude of the government towards plans for resumption of government control on the marketing of wheat. In his statement, Sir George says:

"Demand has been made by the United Farmers of Alberta and the Dominion Council of Agriculture, and various associations of grain growers, for the re-establishment of control of the Canadian wheat market through a board similar to that which functioned last year and for which legislative provision was made at the last session of parliament. The demand is made because of the drop in current wheat prices as compared with last year, and with the thought that in some way or other, or nearly so, a wheat board could assure a higher price."

Mr. Wood, president of the Dominion Council of Agriculture, in answer to the question, "What reason is there for wanting this year's selling at a lower figure than in 1919?" is reported to have said: "From the standpoint of the law of supply and demand there is absolutely none—the only reason in the world is the inefficiency in the selling of wheat this year. Great Britain and other nations are working together and acting in an intelligent manner to get this wheat at the lowest possible price, whereas Canada and the United States, as selling nations, are taking no intelligent action whatever to get the best possible price."

STATEMENT NOT BORNE OUT.

This states the case clearly from the standpoint of those who demand a re-establishment of control. But an examination of the real situation does not bear out the statement above quoted. The law of supply and demand has, in reality, everything to do with the basic determination of the world price for wheat. Circumstances of transport by sea, land, financial and exchange conditions and methods of buying may temporarily affect and vary the price, but the determining factor is the relation of the supply to the demand. The price will vary from time to time by greater or less pressure brought on hand or readily available.

"Last year, the features of the situation which, in the opinion of the government, rendered the functioning of the wheat board necessary, were:

"1. A lack of money and credit on the part of most European buyers and a consequent necessity for advances by exporting countries in the shape of loans or credits. Itself made large advances to European agencies.

"2. A system of government control in all European countries, in the United States and in most exporting countries, which resulted in concerted pool selling of wheat by the European countries, and the virtual elimination of free buying agencies.

"3. The United States government purchased and sold at fixed prices the United States export wheat pool surplus and the United States market was, consequently, shut against the import of Canadian wheat.

"This year the situation is essentially different.

"1. Neither Canada nor the United States are giving government credits to European countries to enable them to supply wheat to their people.

"2. There is no concerted or pool buying by purchasing nations. Each one of the European countries which is this year buying wheat is buying entirely independently of the other, and making its own arrangements as to purchase and payment through normal agencies of purchase and sale.

"3. There is no longer government control in the United States, and Canadian wheat may be freely sent to that country.

A SHARP DIFFERENCE.

"This sharply differentiates the present year from the past year. This year exchanges are working and there is free and independent buying by the nations concerned, in contrast to last year's concerted government buying close exchanges and virtual prohibition of individual buying.

Mr. Wood's contention, therefore, that the fact that prices this year are less than those of last year, are due only to different methods of selling, will not bear analysis. If the board were to be re-established as last year a Canadian embargo on both the export and import of wheat would presumably have to follow.

With the United States market open and the Canadian market under control the tendency would be to freer purchasing in the American market by other countries and the consequent stopping back of the Canadian wheat movement.

The government is carefully watching the various purchasing systems employed and the market conditions generally in this and other countries and is ready to take steps to ensure fair marketing of Canadian wheat should a situation such as last year's develop again."

BANK ROBBER
KILLED IN FIGHT

Two Others Wounded and Captured in Spectacular Gun Fight.

Cleveland, October 22.—George "Jiggs" Linstelner, said to be under indictment in many states on charges of murder and robbery, is under arrest at a local hospital, shot through the neck at the result of a street battle at Bedford, 10 miles from here, late Thursday, which resulted in the death of one bandit, the serious wounding and capturing of two others and the probable fatal shooting of a bank clerk. More than 200 shots were fired.

The battle was the culmination of one of the most spectacular bank robberies ever staged in the state, during which eight bandits held up the Bedford branch of the Cleveland Trust Company.

The dead man was identified by Bedford experts as Albert Joyce, alias Johnson. William Petrie, a bank clerk, was the victim of a shotgun in the hands of a bandit, who had answered the burglar alarm and mistook him for one of the bandits as he emerged from the bank. Physicians say he is dying. The robbery occurred just as the bank was closing. Six of the gang entered with drawn revolvers and ordered the five employees and three customers to the rear of the building. The employees were forced to lie on their faces and the customers were placed under guard in a room.

Selling all the money in sight, said to amount to $50,000, the bandits rushed into the street. Almost simultaneously George C. Flicker, manager of the branch, touched the burglar alarm, which sounded in every downtown business house at Bedford.

E. W. Boyce, a tire dealer, one of those attracted, fatally shot Joyce, who was at the wheel of the waiting automobile.

Unable to start the engine, the other bandits fled, leaving the manager, Linstelner, Harry Stone and an unidentified man were wounded. R. W. Osborn, proprietor of a grocery store, bringing two of them down.

Poses are searching for the four other members of the gang.

CHIROPRACTIC

IS THE SCIENCE

That goes directly to the cause of the majority of so-called diseases is the reason of Chiropactic efficiency, as a drugless health agent; that is why adjustments benefit you when all "treatment methods" have failed. Disease is a medical term. It is a misnomer. All so-called disease is but bodily incoordination. The "diseases" here named are called such to educate the reader by contrast to proper terminology.

The Chiropactors assume that in case of malpositioned vertebral segments, the openings between the vertebrae, through which the spinal nerves pass, are affected; that in this way the nerves are impinged; and that such compression is the cause of the majority of all diseases. This doctrine called subluxation of the vertebral unit, which means that the articular surfaces of these bony units are more or less out of alignment. To realign these units the Chiropactor uses nothing but his bare hands to deliver a particular thrust, thus relieving the pressure of bony substances from the nerve trunks to restore normal nerve function.

Chiropactors, by correctly adjusting the spine, are very successfully eliminating the cause of Stomach Troubles, Bowel, Kidney and Liver Troubles, Rheumatism, Trouble of Head, Throat or Lungs, Appendicitis, Gail Stones, Hay Fever, Diabetes, Infantile Paralysis, Heart Trouble and other diseases, acute or chronic, yield readily to Chiropactic treatments.

Do not think that because you have no pain in the back your spine is in perfect alignment and needs no adjustment. Many people have this impression, but they will show them and explain why they need not have pain in their back and still their spine be out of alignment and produce pressure on nerves and cause trouble. Each organ and member of our body has its nerve supply, and if this is shut off by one or more bones of the spinal column the part to which they lead will be diseased.

GOVERNMENT CONTROL OF LIQUOR FAVORED IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

Returns from Many Parts of Province indicate that Present Prohibition Act Has Been Defeated in Cities, Towns and Villages; Majority in Favor of Government Control Was Approximately 15,000.

Victoria, B.C., October 20.—Premier John Oliver, voting surprise as the result of the referendum, tonight that in view of the expression of public opinion, the necessary legislation to repeal the existing act, and to bring into effect the principle of government control, would be brought down by the government. The will of the people would have to be met. The premier had nothing to say on the possibility of an early election.

Vancouver, B.C., October 20.—British Columbia today voted overwhelmingly in favor of government control of the sale of liquor. At this hour (10 o'clock), returns from many parts of the province indicated that the present prohibition act has been defeated in cities, towns and villages, the majority in favor of government control totals approximately 15,000. Moderationists, however, claim that when final figures are in the majority in favor of government control will total close to 30,000. Moderationists who support government control of the sale of liquor have scored a great victory, and the defeat of the present "dry" act is conclusive. All the cities in the lower mainland and Vancouver Island returned large majorities in favor of the repeal of the present act, the outstanding surprise of the voting being the large "wet" majority returned in this city of 10,716.

CITIES GO "WET"
Victoria also gave a large majority for a "wet" law of 3,251, while New Westminster and Prince Rupert registered a vote favorable to government control. Kamloops, Nanaimo, Fernie, and Rossland did likewise. A record vote was polled, not only in the cities and towns, but in the rural districts as well. The women took part in today's voting, following an active part in the present campaign. It was anticipated that the women would influence the result in favor of the present regulations, but the result appears to indicate that a large number of the women voters endorsed the proposed new regulation of government control.

STRENUOUS CAMPAIGNS.
Strenuous campaigns were waged by both the prohibitionists and the moderationists, and both sides were equally confident as to the result of today's balloting. The first referendum on the liquor question on which the present prohibition act is based, was taken in 1916 and resulted in a small majority for the "drys". The vote was then 41,895 for prohibition and 36,192 against. The civilian vote was "dry" but the vote of the soldiers gave the majority.

THE QUESTION
The questions on which the people were asked to express themselves on today's balloting were:
Which do you prefer:
1. The present prohibition act?
2. An act to prohibit the government control and sale in sealed packages of spirituous and malted liquors?
The vote today will result, it is expected in a generous policy of sale of liquor, not over the open bar, but in government shops. The present act was amended at the last session of the legislature to permit of the sale of only eight ounces of liquor from a drugstore or government dispensary under a medical prescription. The act in its original form allowed the sale of any quantity on a doctor's prescription, and the government liquor stores in the various centres of population did a thriving business. Under the present act, the manufacture and sale of liquor by bootleggers thrived, and this fact, moderationists say, was a determining factor in today's result.

PUBLIC MIND
W. L. Savage, president of the prohibition party in British Columbia, tonight said to the Canadian Press that the result of the referendum showed that there had been a confusion in the public mind on the term "government control". Particularly was this so with regard to the women's vote. The women thought it meant a system whereby the government would better control the liquor traffic than it had done under the present act. "We shall have to await an experience of the new system," he concluded.

Had the present act been endorsed at the polls today it is likely that the liquor traffic would have been immediate steps to prohibit the importation of liquor into the province.

FOUR HUNDRED ARE KILLED IN CHINESE COAL MINE DISASTER

Explosion Occurs in Next to Lowest Level and Laborers Are Trapped.

Peikia, October 21.—An explosion and fire in the Tong Shan coal mine, in Chi-Li province, killed upward of 400 Chinese laborers, on Thursday last, but news of the accident reached here only Wednesday. There were 119 survivors. An accurate accounting of the number of men employed in the mine is not available, but an official report by the mining company places the dead at 422. The explosion occurred in next to the lowest level, smoke causing most of the deaths. Railway shops and a large cement works near the mine lent their employees for rescue work. Grief-stricken crowds surrounded the mine, carrying off the victims as they were brought to the surface. It is reported that 150 miles were taken out Sunday. An official report says the explosion set fire to the timbers of the mine.

Rescue work began immediately after the accident under the direction of an engineer belonging to the foreign staff of the mine.

GOVERNMENT WILL TAKE NO ACTION ON SUGAR

Montreal, October 19.—A determined effort is to be made by the federal government to have the sugar difficulty finally settled at the meeting which takes place in Ottawa tomorrow, according to a letter received from the Hon. J. D. S. Kerr, Minister of Finance & Co., signed by Premier Arthur Meighen. This letter is in reply to a communication sent by Mr. Kerr to the premier on Friday last, in which the refineries were charged with inconsistency in certain of their statements.

Mr. Kerr particularly alleged that the statement of refineries being overhauled with sugar as a result of the embargo on export is not consistent with statements made by refineries at various board of commerce hearings earlier in the year, when, he maintains, refineries opposed the removal of the embargo and suggested that its removal would leave them short of sugar.

What action, it is now asked, could the government legally take if it were desired to assist the refineries out of their difficulties? During the war period the government had recourse to the War Measures Act, when extraordinary interferences with trade were considered necessary. The War Measures Act has now ceased to exist, and in legal circles doubt exists if the government has authority to absolutely prohibit importation unless legislation is first passed by parliament conferring such authority. This legal situation has been under close study since the refineries first presented their case to the government, and will no doubt have an important bearing on the decision reached.

On the other hand, there is a feeling that the refineries' troubles are due, in part at any rate, to previous government action on the operations, and on that ground they are entitled to sympathetic consideration. In any event, it is stated, full opportunity will be given for hearing all sides before a final decision is reached.

CANDY MAKERS IN VERY SERIOUS DILEMMA

Ottawa, October 19.—The sugar situation which, according to reports reaching Ottawa from all parts of the Dominion, is the chief topic of interest in Canada today, is to be thoroughly threshed out at tomorrow's hearing of the refineries and other interested parties before the cabinet. There will be practically a full attendance of members of the government, and several other interested parties as the refineries are expected to present their case.

One of these which, it is stated, will prove interesting is that of the candy manufacturing industries in Canada, who, according to one man in close touch with the industry, are being held two free. The candy manufacturers, it is stated, would like to see cheaper sugar in that the candy makers hold their trade without danger of the American manufacturers underselling them, but at the same time they face a loss if the reduction in sugar prices should be too drastic. Most of the firms in question are stated to be already manufacturing goods to fill their Christmas orders, and the sugar used in these orders has all been purchased at the higher prices.

However, if there is reduction of Canadian sugar prices to anything like the American level, the Canadian merchants and people will demand a pro-rata reduction in the price of candies, and the manufacturers, they may be compelled to sell the Christmas goods, which they are now making, at a loss because of the demands for rebates from merchants.

The impression here tonight is that the government, under some new hearing, will be brought out in tomorrow's hearing, will rescind the order of the board of commerce together, and let the law of supply and demand rule in sugar prices.

STOP LOOK and LISTEN before purchasing a baking powder that may possibly contain injurious ingredients. Many food scientists claim that baking powder containing alum is unsafe for use in food. The mere fact that some brands of baking powder have the words "No Alum" on the label is not sufficient proof that they are what they are represented to be. Our chemists find a good many have "No Alum" on the outside but large quantities of it inside.

GERMANY OF TODAY

Description of Present Conditions Would Not Make Pleasant Reading.

Those who were familiar with Germany in 1913 and previously, would be astonished at the change which has taken place since that time. Food continues to be scarce, prices are enormous and there is hardly any coal to be obtained. The cost of almost every commodity has increased ten and twentyfold. Wiesbaden itself, known the world over as a pleasure resort, is now to all intents and purposes practically ruined financially. The hotels are empty, and many people, formerly waiters, have had to give up their homes as they cannot afford to keep them up under the prevailing conditions. There is such a shortage of accommodation that no one is allowed more than two rooms, and almost everyone has had to take strangers into their homes. To describe the conditions fully, would not make pleasant reading, and it seems better not to dwell upon them. All one can say is: The Germany of 1913 has gone.

COMMUNIST REVOLUTION THROUGHOUT CONTINENT PLAN OF BOLSHIEVICKI

Milan, October 21.—The police have gathered evidence, demonstrating that the anarchists have been planning a series of terrorist attacks on different public places here. About 150 anarchists have been arrested.

The Avanti, the radical organ, says today:
"The final clash approaches. Be morally and materially ready to employ force. Have the Red Guards protect our newspapers and organizations. Let us answer violence with violence; an eye for an eye; a tooth for a tooth."

The radical leaders, Serrati and Gennari, have gone to Berlin to attend a Bolshevik meeting, at which M. Zinovief, the Russian Bolshevik, is to be present, and at which it is said to be intended to arrange common action for a Communist revolution throughout Europe.

U.F.A. READY FOR BIG DRIVE

Greenfield confident that Alberta Organization will make Record Showing.

Herbert Greenfield, Westlock, Vice-President of the U.F.A., chairman of the U.F.A. organization committee, advises that everything is in readiness for the big drive during the first week in November.

Most of the preliminary work has been done and it is expected that on November 1st and November 2nd upwards of 3000 enthusiastic U.F.A. supporters will be in the field visiting their neighbors and soliciting for memberships in the association.

The organization work in both Manitoba and Saskatchewan has been progressing favorably and reports from "district captains" indicate that the morning of November 1st will see upwards of ten thousand active workers beginning their canvass in all the rural districts in the three provinces.

In this drive an endeavor will be made to have a representative of the farmers associations visit every resident farmer between the City of Winnipeg and the Rocky Mountains. The head of every household will be asked to contribute the sum of $5.00—no more no less. This amount will pay for a year's membership in the association, a year's subscription to the official organ and leave $2.00 to be used by the central and district boards for organization purposes.

Associated with Mr. Greenfield on the Alberta Organization Committee are L. M. Goetz of Red Deer and Snow Sears of Nanton. All are members of the Board of Directors of the U.F.A. The committee has fixed an objective of 50,000 U.F.A. members for the year 1920 and all are confident that this figure will be reached.

SERVICE THROUGH SYSTEM

In the September number of the Prairie Lumberman there appeared a very interesting article by O. W.
Thorne, local manager of the Manning-Sutherland Lumber Co. Ltd., of this city, on the above subject. The yard has attracted much attention, especially the beautiful vines, which covered the building. A cut of the building is reproduced at the head of this article. One can hardly estimate the advertising Red Deer has received through the efforts of Mr. and Mrs. Thorne to beautify the company's buildings.

Mr. Thorne wrote the article in response to the following letter received from the "Western Retail Lumbermen Association," of Winnipeg, Manitoba:

Mr. O. W. Thorne,

care Messrs. Manning-Sutherland

Lumber Company,

Red Deer, Alta.

From a number of different sources
we have heard that the yard which you are operating at Red Deer is one of the most attractive in the country due to the fact that you have taken special pains in piling your stock and have also planted some very attractive vines and flowers.

Now, we are very anxious to place the particulars of this before our members through the medium of our new Association magazine, with the idea that it would be an incentive to lumber dealers in other parts of the country to improve the appearance of their lumber plants.

Our August issue is nearly ready for the press, and it would be greatly appreciated if you will send us two or three snap shots of your yard, which we will have reproduced in our magazine. We would also like to have you prepare a short article explaining how easy it is to keep your yard in this condition, once a proper start has been made. This article will accompany illustrations
I would prefer, if possible, to have one snap shot showing a picture of yourself in front of the yard.

I am sure you will realize the good which will result from such an article, and that it will reach a heart from you by return of mail so that this article may appear in our August issue.

Yours truly,

WESTERN RETAIL LUMBER-

MEN'S ASSOCIATION

F. H. Lamar, Secretary-Treasurer.

stock. On the other side of the driveway we have the mouldings, flooring, siding and all finish lumber.

A PLACE FOR EVERYTHING
In the shed and door room frame work is put up three tiers high, the smaller sash on top. Here, as in other parts of the yard, everything is arranged in consecutive order. The sections are marked off for a full stock, and if there is a vacant space, a glance will show just what size and how many to order. The doors are kept the same way. In this way we are seldom out of anything.

The space above the office, sash and door room, cement and linoleum is utilized for paper and wall boards. Here they are always dry, out of the way and ready to add to the appearance of the plant. There is a deck on this side, the same as in the other side, where the mouldings are kept.

The mouldings are all above second deck. Each section is six feet wide with arms extending two feet each way. These are on each post to the back. They are six high, making twelve bins in each section. The mouldings are classified. On one side of first section is the quarter round, crown strip, core and everything used to finish a small corner. The opposite side is for bed moulds and crown moulds of all sizes. The second section has all finish for flat surfaces,
such as burlap mould, lattice, astragal.

The other side is for cap trims, neck mould, wainscot cap. The next section has everything for window and door frames, with the jambs on the bottom on account of their weight.
In the next section is the 10-inch and 12-inch stopping on the bottom, with hand rails, fillet and baluster stock and everything for stairs above.

A measuring stick is tacked to the arms on one side of each section, so one can walk between the arms and get the exact length required without tearing down the whole pile. The longer lengths are piled to the back.
Cards with name, size, number and price are tacked on the front arms.
This saves time often wasted in looking up prices in the catalogue or the more doubtful method of guessing at the price.

UNIQUE ADVERTISING

THAT PAYS

The walls of the shed are kept painted, and during the summer covered with vines of wild cucumber, and the window boxes are filled with nasturtiums, which are a riot of blasts. We get well repaid for our trouble with these, not only by the pleasure they give, but also by the general appreciation of all who love flowers. Pale about advertising!
The vines and flowers are the talk of the country, and we have by this means largely widened our circle of friends. Nearly every day someone comes to introduce himself and enquire about the vines to give to his etc. People in business not only demand a square deal, but they appreciate beauty and these "Purple Patches" linger in their memory, so that when they need lumber, by the natural law of associated ideas, they know where it may be satisfactorily obtained.

A trailer attached to our automobile ensures speedy delivery of goods sold, and corresponding satisfaction
on the part of our customers.

Order and neatness is even more necessary in the backyard than on the front street; so the grass is kept mowed, and where possible the ground is hoed and kept bare. All saws, scrapes and shingles are thrown into the alleys instead of behind the piles, and each evening are gathered up and the last sorted for length, put in a box and made ready for use again. By keeping the ground clear, danger of fire or accidents of any kind is greatly lessened.

CONDITION OF STOCK KNOWN

AT A GLANCE

In our business we find it necessary to carry complete stocks both in fir and spruce. For stocking space at least 20 feet 6 inches should be allowed on single bents; 35 is sufficient to do well.

The fir stock, being standard, is stacked to the front with 2 x 12-12
first, as there is usually a good stock of these; then 2 x 14-12-20; then 2 x 10-20 down to 12, and so on down to 2 x 4. Everything is arranged in consecutive order, and the length length. The sections of the bents
are always the same distance apart, and the lumber is stacked in these and four feet between the others.
This arrangement enables one to see in a glance the condition of his stock and to avoid mistakes.

Across the alley is the timber and shingle and lumber stacks. These are the No. 1 and No. 2 boards. In unloading the drayman places the boards on the 20 foot sections. All that is necessary, then, to stack it, is to let it over, which can be done
in a twinkling.

A stacking gauge with a spirit level is used, ensuring a uniform slant on the alleys.

PILING SHINGLES

ATTRACTIVELY

The office being in one corner, the sash and door room are stacked in the opposite corner to give height and appearance to the front. The shingle platform made of 2 x 4s and 10 inch wide across the front, five deep and ten high, then capping off. Four-inch boards are used along the sides and eight-inch over the cracks. This makes the pile have perfectly square corners and straight sides. Another section is started the same way. In doing this the shingles to the front are left to the last and look much better than a low, wide pile.

When a new car of shingles arrives the few old ones will be moved, and the new ones stacked with the old ones on top. We do this with all our stock, so we always have a new No. 1 stock.

Back of the shingles are the lath,
stacked six bundles each way and 25
high, making 150 bundles in each pile. This saves time in loading and mistakes in counting. Behind the lath are the brick and then the spruce yard.

Apart from the improved appearance of the yard made possible by a very little painstaking interest, we find that by systematic attention to detail and a little foresight, we are able to manage with a minimum cost for labor, and are ready to give prompt attention to the wishes of our customers. We are then in a position to act upon the Rotarian principle: "He profits most who serves best." Service is our motto, and the only way to give service is through system.

IDLE THOUGHTS OF A BUSY FARMER

In a recent issue of The News, I see an "Idle Housewife" vignette. Bradley and was captivated with Bill P's pocketless overall. Like the I. H., we were interested in the pockets of pockets of that cross between Old Bill and Earl Hag, so I hunted him up for an interview. He found himself comfortably ensconced in Bradley's bar room, consuming his favorite contention of beer and cream and two per cent. beer, while he and St. John O'Neill told stories of the old times when his hair had been long and cobwebby on his head. He was talking of his pockets, to be or not to be.
Bill said, "Pockets have always been my undoing. It is said of some people that money burns a hole in their pocket, with me it was necessary for money to do this. As a kid at school I was supplied with six pence every Saturday morning for the next week's pocket money, but on account of the ever prevalent hole in my pocket that six pence had evaporated
by Saturday night and I was minus spending money for the next week.
Somehow this habit acquired by my father in childhood's happy hour has lasted, more or less, through life.
When I came to man's estate my father advised me before leaving home to be always sure to have with me a half, a piece of string and a sovereign. I could secure the first two by tying the knife round my neck with a piece of string, but it was impossible to keep the sovereign. The hole was always present to let it out shortly after leaving home. I decided recently to have my clothes made without pockets. I had considerable trouble in getting a tailor to make such clothes; they all insisted I must have somewhere to put my hands. It is only since I secured these pocket-less clothes that I have been able to avoid a competence. When pressed for his father's address, Bill stated that his name was Wells, and he hung out at Madox St. off Bond St., London. He also stated that he believed prohibition had had a good deal to do with acquiring permanent patches in some pants pockets.

We see the prohibition exponents are busy educating the proletariat with their side of the case. Why don't the anti's get busy and let us hear what they have to say against it.
I am sure all our readers would be glad to lend their churches and pulpits for an anti-prohibition campaign. The anti's could work up such material as the state of Maine, which has been "dry" for fifty years, and where there are today more bootlegs to the square inch than any other state in the union. Then there is human nature. Tell a man he can have what he wants of a thing and the charm of acquisition is gone. Tell him he can't have it, and that is what he wants. When at school after midsummer vacation one year the head master had a notice up on the bulletin board that any boy found smoking or with pipe or tobacco in his possession, would be severely punished and might even be suspended. Immediately every self-respecting boy went and bought a pipe and tobacco. It made no considerable difference at the start, but I felt my honor was at stake, and I left school some years later a confirmed smoker. We have the same tendency in inanimate objects. Ask the man who runs a Chevrolet car, and he will tell you his main trouble is with spring bolts breaking, but let that man buy a duplicate set of spring bolts and carry them in his tool box, and never a bolt will break. That car knows and so does that man up miles from nowhere is gone.

I lived for a number of years in Jamaica, B.W.I. Then there was no United License as in Canada. Provided the building to be licensed, and the applicant for license, filled in the law's requirements, that was all;
the number of licenses granted was a small, and the license fee was a detail. The regulations, however, as to the quality of the liquor sold were very strict. Every village and aggregation of houses had at least one licensed place, if not two or three. There was drunkenness prevalent. Not on your tintype. When licenses were running

In Alberta I could see any day in any week more drunk men in Red Deer than I would see in any month in Kingston, the capital of Jamaica.
Why? There a man didn't have to worry about getting a drink, so he didn't crave for it. Here the average farmer had to go ten to thirty miles before he hit a licensed place, then he hated to leave it because he knew it would be a month or so before he got back for another lot.

I am not in favor of the license system, but I believe there should be some way by which respectable citizens could get reliable liquor for home use, without paying graft to doctors or drug stores; neither should they have to send to other provinces
for it.

If women could only see the thousands of letters Dr. Tyrrell has received from grateful women in all parts of the world, thanking him for his wonderful invention for Internal Bathing, they would soon discard the medicine bottle and look to the real cause of their trouble, 95 per cent.
of all human ills are due to accumulated waste in the Colon, or large lower intestine. Warm water, properly used with the J. B. L. Cascade, will relieve the cause of many troubles, and perfect health will follow.

A Winnipeg clergyman writes: "My wife is naturally sensitive having her name appear in public print, yet is conscious that others should know what the J. B. L. Cascade has done for her.
It has really given her a new lease of life. For years she had been suffering ago, she has not been sick a day, and has become robust and strong again. Should any person wish this is something everyone today is trying to practise. We endeavor to co-operate with the building public in stocking the best materials procurable and buying only well seasoned stock. Quality governs all our purchases, as we feel that real economy is only attained by giving our customers the very best at the least possible cost.

ECONOMY

It is a pleasure to us to figure on your requirements, no matter how large or small.

Canada's Great Opportunity in Live Stock

The importance of the live-stock industry cannot be too strongly, nor too frequently, emphasized.
Europe will for years import meat products in enormous quantities.

The agricultural prosperity of Canada depends more than ever upon exports of beef, pork, lamb, etc.
